LOCATION

Kirkcaldy is a town and former royal burgh in Fife, on the east coast of Scotland. It is about 12 miles north of Edinburgh and 28 miles southwest of Dundee. The town had a recorded population of 49,460 in 2011, making it Fife's second-largest settlement and the 11th most populous settlement in Scotland.

The town is a major service centre for the central Fife area. It has a swimming pool, theatre, museum and art gallery, three public parks and an ice rink. The A92, which connects Dunfermline to the west with Glenrothes and Dundee to the north, passes immediately north of Kirkcaldy.

The subjects are located on the eastern side of Hunter Street between its junctions with St Brycedale Road and Hunter Place.

DESCRIPTION

The subjects comprise a ground floor café/retail unit within a 2-storey building of traditional stone construction surmounted by a pitched and slated roof.

Internally the subjects comprise a front main retail area, kitchen and w.c facilities.
