LOCATION

Falkirk is a large town in the Central Lowlands of Scotland, historically within the county of Stirlingshire. It lies in the Forth Valley, 23.3 miles north-west of Edinburgh and 20.5 miles northeast of Glasgow.

Falkirk has a resident population of 34,570 according to the 2008 census. The population of the town had risen over the past decade, making it the 20th most populous settlement in Scotland. Falkirk is the main town and administrative centre of the Falkirk council area, which has an overall population of 156,800 and in holds the nearby towns of Grangemouth, Bo'ness, Denny, Larbert and Stenhousemuir.

The subjects are located on the northern side of Newmarket Street between its junction with Vicar Street and Lint Riggs within Falkirk Town Centre.

PROPOSAL

Offers over £575,000 are invited for the heritable interest.

DESCRIPTION

The subjects comprise a substantial mid-terraced aparthotel which was converted approximately 8 years ago. The building is of traditional stone construction surmounted by a pitched and slated roof.

The property benefits from a private secure entrance at ground floor level.

Internally the subjects provide 10 ensuite bedrooms which each benefit from a kitchenette area.

The second floor provides a larger communal kitchen which can be utilised by all residents if required.

A laundry store and managers office are also provided.

THE BUSINESS

Our clients have traded the business since 2018. The business has grown progressively and is well supported by local and national businesses.

Seriously interested parties can request further accounting information.

The property is currently managed remotely by our clients with self check in being offered. The cleaning and laundry is currently out-sourced.

PLANNING

All queries in relation to redevelopment/ reconfiguration of the subjects should be addressed to Falkirk Council Planning Department.
